Memory Puzzle No. 2

A CHRISTMAS GIFT FROM BIG PONG

Do you think you can remember all the foods that Big Pong left in her containers as her very special Christmas gift to the Johnson family at the end of Stinky's Christmas Surprise? Take this challenge and find out if you can!

The Challenge: Test your memory and see if you can fill in the labels from the story on the containers in the picture on the next page.

Can't quite remember? A list of the foods from the story can be found at:

www.storiesformylittlesister.com/extras/memory-puzzles/gift-from-big-pong/container-labels.pdf

Now you can test your memory even more and see if you can complete the picture by colouring the containers to match those in the story.

Up for another challenge? Well, one of the most fun things about writing Stinky's Christmas Surprise was actually deciding what foods someone like Big Pong might cook up - so that's your bonus challenge.

The Bonus Challenge: Print out a fresh copy of the drawing on the next page. Then let your imagination run wild! What smelly dishes do you think Big Pong might have served up? Add your own food labels to the containers. Then you can colour them in your own colour scheme. We hope you'll have as much fun as we did deciding what Big Pong might have cooked up. Remember: the smellier, the better!
